Earn 6 Act 48 Hours!

We are back! Children are in classrooms, and we know teachers will have to balance content with the social and emotional needs of our students. Our success moving forward will be based on how we incorporate social and emotional development into our everyday practices. This professional development series will focus on three areas that support social and emotional learning, Culturally Competent and Sustaining Practices, Emotional Regulation and Relationship Building, and Family Engagement. Join us, and other SDP colleagues to brainstorm, skill build, and get collegial support.
